

ONTARIO TOP TRADES AT A GLANCE

Note: The Ontario College of Trades currently designates 23 skilled trades as ‘compulsory’. To practice in a compulsory trade, an individual must be one of the following: a licensed journeyman – a holder of a valid Certificate of Qualification (C of Q); a registered apprentice with the Ministry of Advanced Education and Skills Development (MAESD); or a holder of a provisional C of Q. Because the job titles listed by the College of Trades tend to be more specific than the occupations listed by the National Occupational Classification (NOC) system, some NOC occupations include compulsory as well as non-compulsory trades. For instance, NOC 7322 (Motor vehicle body repairers) includes both ‘auto body repairer’ (a designated compulsory trade) and ‘automotive glass technician’ (not a compulsory trade). To see the full list of trades identified by the Ontario College of Trades, and whether they are designated as compulsory, visit: <http://www.collegeoftrades.ca/about/trades-in-ontario>.
